FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE—April 11, 2026

GMHA Advisory: Storm Preparedness, Temporary Suspensions, and Patient Intake

Tamuning, Guam—In anticipation of Tropical Storm Sinlaku, the Guam Memorial Hospital Authority (GMHA) is implementing preparedness measures to ensure continuity of care and patient safety.

Patient Intake—Expectant Mothers

Upon declaration of COR 2, GMHA will accept:

- Pregnant mothers who are thirty-six (36) weeks or more
- High-risk pregnant mothers who are twenty-four (24) weeks or more

GMHA advises to consult your healthcare provider if unsure about high-risk status. Upon arrival, expectant mothers must report to the Patient Registration office on the first floor. Expectant mothers will be housed in a designated area and will remain at GMHA for the duration of the storm until the declaration of COR 4.

What to Bring

Expectant mothers are advised to bring:

- ID and insurance cards
- Necessary medications
- Clean pillows, blankets, and linens
- Bedding such as sheets, blankets/comforters, and pillowcases
- Personal toiletries and a change of clothing
- Water and non-perishable snacks
- Personal entertainment items

Restrictions

- No escorts, support persons, children, or pets (except service animals)
- No smoking/vaping, alcohol, illegal drugs, or weapons

Hospital Operations—Upon declaration of COR 2

- Visiting hours are suspended until further notice (except approved watchers)
- Elective outpatient and clinical procedures are postponed
- Family viewings are suspended until COR 4

Patients with affected appointments will be contacted directly for rescheduling. GMHA will continue to maintain essential hospital services, including 24/7 Emergency Room operations and inpatient care.

Facility Readiness Measures

Today, GMHA completed readiness actions to ensure uninterrupted operations:

- Fuel for emergency power generation systems is filled to capacity
- Liquid oxygen supply is filled to capacity to support patient care needs

These actions support GMHA's ability to maintain essential healthcare services throughout the duration of the storm. The public is urged to continue monitoring official updates from the National Weather Service and the Joint Information Center.
